Meeting for Learning Coordinator

A Meeting for Learning is an opportunity for Friends to come together to listen and participate in a gathering facilitated by a member of our community on a topic that connects to the values and interests of Friends. Friends may share their experiences on a wide range of topics, including social justice, Quaker action, spirituality, or aspects of an individual's experience that may resonate with others. The principal purpose is for the Meeting to learn more about one another and to strengthen our relationships by sharing our interests and passions.

The Meeting for Learning Coordinator is responsible for the following tasks:

- Accept and approve proposals for Meetings for Learning from individuals and committees, and if appropriate refer them to committees for sponsorship. The Coordinator may also take the initiative to set up Meetings for Learning.
- Coordinate the dates and times with the meeting calendar and arrange with the individual presenter or sponsoring committee regarding the other practical details.
- Provide guidance to those creating Meeting for Learning sessions regarding logistics, publicity and other such issues.

Ministry & Counsel Committee 3-year term (members only) □

Care for the spiritual condition of the Meeting and individuals.

- Develop programs, study groups, and public meetings to assist members and attenders to deepen the life of the spirit.

- Be informed of terms of service and requirements of membership for service, as relevant.
- Identify Meeting members and attenders for committee and officer participation for the following year (July–June).
- Ask those identified if they are willing to serve.
- Prepare a slate of nominees and present to Meeting for Business for a first reading in May of the current year.
- Update slate for a second reading and approval at Meeting for Business in June.
- Update slate with committee clerks, when identified by committees at first meeting of the year; send for posting on the Meeting website.
- Keep current the committee descriptions; submit changes to Meeting for Business for approval; send for posting on the Meeting website.

Outreach, Peace & Justice Committee

- Plan and promote community events such as film nights, vigils, etc.
- Do publicity for Meeting events and worship.
- Provide orientations on conscientious objection.
- Keep a file for conscientious objectors.
- Provide information and orientation to new attenders and interested people in the community.

Rayville Burial Ground Board

- Participate in a larger committee that includes residents of the Rayville community; meet 3 to 4 times a year.
- Help plan activities and maintain the old Quaker burial ground in Rayville (north of Old Chatham on County Route 13), including work days at the burial ground (usually two per year) and planning and helping with fundraising.

Representatives to NYYM Sessions

- Attend Spring and Fall Sessions or see that an alternate from the Meeting attends.
- Prepare for and participate in the Yearly Meeting business sessions as a seeker after truth.
- Serve as a link between OCMM and the wider body of the Yearly Meeting, including reporting at home on what happened at the sessions.

Trustees 3-year term (certain percentage of members required)

- The official “Board of Directors” of the Old Chatham Monthly Meeting, Inc.
- Take action as directed by the Meeting or by circumstances.

Welcoming Committee
